

Dear Resident,

Are you (or your teenager) looking for another book to read this summer?

Well we have some suggestions that may cure this problem. Here are a few personal finance books that you or your high school or college student might enjoy.

- The Wealthy Barber, by David Chilton, it's a fictional story about...making money.
- Getting Loaded (Get Ready. Get Set. Get Rich.), by Peter Bielagus. This comprehensive guide includes 50 "start now strategies" that will answer all your questions about money.
- The Richest Man in Babylon, by George S. Clason.

Has anyone read these books?

- Your Money or Your Life, by Vicki Robin & Joe Dominquez
- 10 Things College Students Need to Know about Money, by Shay Olivarria
- Scratch Beginnings, by Adam Shepard

This month we'd really like your opinion. Which personal finance book have you read and enjoyed? Please email Richard at nhcep@nh.gov and give us the title, the author, and what you liked about it.

Beware of Phony Emails

The FDIC has issued a warning about emails claiming to come from them, read more. Please be wary of emails from any banking institution that asks you to update your account information. Note that the FDIC does not directly contact consumers in this manner nor does the FDIC request personal financial information from consumers.

Educational Events and Seminars

Home Buyer Seminars

- August 6 in Manchester, NeighborWorks of Greater Manchester, 626-4663
- August 9 & 11 in Nashua, NH Housing Authority, 1-800-640-7239 Ext 7393
- August 13 in Concord, CATCH Neighborhood Housing, (603) 225-8835
- August 16 & 18 in West Ossipee, NH Housing Authority, 1-800-640-7239 Ext 7393
- August 27 in Laconia, Laconia Area Land Trust, (603) 525-0747

Do you like to golf? Want to help support financial education? Please consider playing in the annual fundraiser for NH JumpStart on August 18th at Stonebridge CC Learn More...