

announces

an energy guide for Historic District Commissions

A guide to energy retrofits and renewable energy siting for historic structures for use by historic preservation groups, community organizations, municipal governments, preservation and building professionals, individual property owners, and others interested in historic preservation. This Guide establishes common ground for the historic preservation and energy-efficiency and renewable-energy communities.

Watch for more information:
www.cleanair-coolplanet.org.