BACKGROUND

In August of 1984, the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, Local 1801 (AFSCME) filed improper practice charges against the Town of Derry, Derry Board of Selectmen, Edward Anderson as Chairman (Town), for failing to institute the proper retroactive pay to all employees involved.

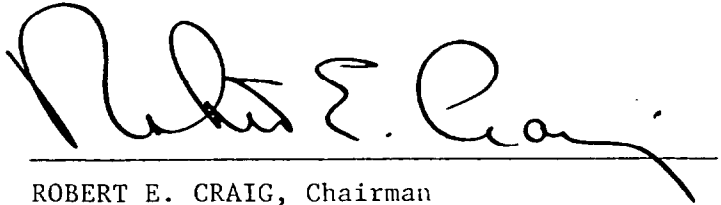

The Town denied the charges and stated that proper compensation had been afforded each employee so entitled under the agreement reached by and between the parties.

A hearing on the matter was held in the Board's (PELRB) office on January 22, 1985. The parties were afforded an opportunity to make opening statements.

After considering the statements made by the parties, PELRB issued the following oral order:

DECISION AND ORDER

This matter is remanded to the grievance procedure under the contract which is at issue in the complaint and PELRB will retain jurisdiction over the complaint pending the outcome of all steps of the grievance procedure.
