

Numbering of State Building Code Review Board Exhibits

Originally Adopted: June 10, 2011

Updated: December 14, 2012

Format: CD-YR-XX-YY

Where CD denotes the specific code for which the amendment is being proposed, as shown below:

RE (International Residential Code),
BD (International Building Code),
ME (International Mechanical Code),
PL (International Plumbing Code),
EN (International Energy Conservation Code),
EL (National Electrical Code),
EX (International Existing Building Code)

Where YR denotes the year of the code 09, 11, or 12, etc.

Where XX denotes the number the exhibit was assigned that year to that code.

Where YY denotes the year when the exhibit was introduced

Example:

ME-09-04-11 is an exhibit/proposed amendment to the International Mechanical Code 2009 (IMC 09). It is the 4th introduced exhibit related to the IMC 09 in 2011.

Notes:

1. Exhibit numbers to be assigned by the State Building Code Review Board (BCRB).
2. Prior to June of 2011, exhibits were assigned numbers in the order that they were submitted up until Exhibit 100.
3. Exhibits submitted between June of 2011 and December of 2012, have a "P" (for pending) following the exhibit number, however that will no longer be used.
4. The changes proposed in the exhibits are not necessarily approved, in whole or in part, by the BCRB. To view the amendments the Board has approved, please read the NH State Building Code \(BCR 300\).
