To Whom This May Concern:

I have a situation, currently at a stand still. Financial resources fraudulently induced me. I was lead by trickery into a contract that I had no alternative but to rescind. As things are right now, I have contractors that want to be paid, and a house that is made and waiting to be delivered. I am desperate to resolve this situation as effectively and efficiently as possible. I have attached for your review a copy of the rescind letter that comes from my attorney. All efforts have been exhausted on my end to resolve this situation, and in desperation I turn to you. Please review the enclosed information, and let me know what else you may need to further investigate, since time is of the essence, I look forward to hearing back from you as soon as possible. Any and all assistance will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely, [REDACTED]

NOTICE OF RECISSION OF LOAN

Dear Atty. Burke:

As you are aware, this office represents [REDACTED] relative to the above-captioned construction loan which closed on Monday, February 13, 2006. On February 16, 2006, I wrote a letter to you confirming that this loan carried a six (6) day right of rescission. Pleas[REDACTED] be advised that Mr. [REDACTED] is exercising his right to rescind this loan.

Mr. [REDACTED] started construction of his home relying upon representations made by Financial Resources Employees as to the terms of his financing, and the closing documents do not reflect the terms promised to the borrower. Our efforts to resolve this matter have been unsuccessful-essentially, Mr. [REDACTED] has been advised to "take it or leave it", and he now owes thousands of dollars to contractors whom he hired in reliance upon the Broker's misrepresentations.

Mr. [REDACTED] is now considering legal action to either enforce the promised loan terms, or for monetary damages for his consequential losses.

Very truly yours,
Darlene M. Daniele
