ALERT

The New Hampshire Insurance Department issues this alert to brokers and broker associations warning against an unlicensed agent selling sham insurance purporting to cover entertainment, sporting and other special events. It is also believed that this individual and related entities are attempting to sell other types of nonexistent coverage.

Enclosed is a press release issued by the California Department of Insurance warning against doing insurance business with Joseph Hall, III, also known as Harbour Insurance, Harbour Entertainment & Sports, Harbour Protective Insurance Services, Harbour Insurance, Harbour Insurance Management, and harbourinsurance.com. Neither Mr. Hall, nor any of the Harbour entities, are licensed to do an insurance business of any type in the State of New Hampshire.

Insurance regulators nationwide are coordinating efforts and carrying out investigations to ensure consumers are not defrauded. New Hampshire consumers are potentially at risk, as a New Hampshire insured has recently been defrauded when special event coverage, later determined to be nonexistent, was purchased from a Hall entity through a Massachusetts broker.

Broker organizations are asked to contact their membership, particularly those members known to broker special event coverage, to inform them of this alert.

If you have any information regarding the insurance activities of Joseph Hall, or any of the above entities, in the State of New Hampshire, please contact John Talley, Enforcement Examiner, State of New Hampshire Insurance Department, at 603-271-2261.
