Jason Dexter Promoted to Life And Health Director At The New Hampshire Insurance Department

Dexter Brings Significant Experience and Expertise to New Role

CONCORD, NH (May 12, 2022) – Jason Dexter, a three-year veteran of the New Hampshire Insurance Department (NHID), has been promoted to the position of Life and Health Director, Insurance Commissioner Christopher Nicolopoulos announced.

“Jason brings a wealth of experience and will no doubt do a fantastic job in his new position,” said Commissioner Nicolopoulos. “His unwavering commitment to Granite State insurance consumers is the embodiment of our Department’s values. This is a fantastic development for the New Hampshire Insurance Department.”

In his new role, Dexter will oversee Life and Health actuarial services and analytics, administration of forms compliance, and market conduct investigations and examinations.

Mr. Dexter most recently served as the Administrator of Life and Health Form Compliance at the NHID for nearly three years. In that role, he led a team of subject matter experts across myriad fields of life and health insurance and fostered important relationships with regulated entities which helped to streamline the approval process for Qualified Health Plans.

Previously, Dexter served in the Division of Risk & Benefits at the Department of Administrative Services for nearly 11 years, ending his service as the Deputy Director. Mr. Dexter received his Doctor of Law from the Albany Law School in 2005.

“I’m excited for the opportunity to expand my role in the important work undertaken here at the New Hampshire Insurance Department,” said Jason Dexter. “Part of our mission at the Department is to foster a safe and competitive insurance marketplace, and I look forward to continuing my service to Granite State consumers in this new position.”
