Statement from Governor Hassan on Earth Day

CONCORD – Governor Maggie Hassan issued the following statement on Earth Day:

"From our towering mountains and forests, to our farms, lakes and Seacoast, New Hampshire's beautiful natural resources are critical to our economy, our environment, our people, and our way of life. On this Earth Day -- and every day -- I'm proud that in New Hampshire, we are leading efforts to fight to combat climate change, to ensure a cleaner environment and to build a stronger energy future that will help our citizens, businesses and economy thrive."

"In addition to our commitment to controlling harmful emissions that negatively affect our air, our water, and our earth, we must continue to support important programs such as the Land and Community Heritage Investment Program that provide vital funds for land conservation efforts and protect wildlife habitat, water quality, and other natural resources. I look forward to continuing these efforts and working with legislators on both sides of the aisle to build on the progress we've made in New Hampshire and fight to protect our environment for generations to come."
