Governor Hassan's Statement in Honor of Veterans on Veterans Day

CONCORD – Honoring the brave and courageous service members, veterans and their families who have selflessly sacrificed to defend their fellow citizens and their country, Governor Maggie Hassan has proclaimed November 11, 2016, as Veterans Day in New Hampshire.

“Veterans Day is a special opportunity to come together to express our admiration and respect for all of the brave Americans and Granite Staters who have stood up and answered the call to defend our nation and protect our freedom. On Veterans Day and every day, we are profoundly grateful for all that our service members, veterans and their families have done to help make our country safer and our freedom stronger. On behalf of all Granite Staters, I join our fellow Americans in thanking the brave men and women who have served to position our country as the strongest military and economic power in the world.”

To mark Veterans Day, Governor Hassan is participating in the Concord Veterans Council Veterans Day Ceremony in the Hall of Flags at the State House, as well as the annual Veterans Day Ceremony at the New Hampshire State Veterans Cemetery.

The Governor encourages citizens of New Hampshire to participate in the many activities planned for observing this national holiday and to join with the nation in marking this day by displaying the flag of the United States as reaffirmation of our national identity.
