

Landowner request for NH Natural Heritage Bureau data

The NH Natural Heritage Bureau (NHB) maintains a database of known locations of rare species and exemplary natural communities. Landowners can request a check of the database to find out whether any known locations have been mapped on their property. An agent acting for a landowner can make this request on the landowner's behalf. However, the landowner must be aware of and approve of the request.

The results from this "Landowner Request" cannot be used to satisfy permit or regulatory requirements, since the results are limited to NHB records within property boundaries. To get a NHB letter for permits, use the online DataCheck Tool or a request form, both available at the NHB Datacheck page of the NHB web site.

If there is a rare species on private property, will NH Natural Heritage know about it? Probably not. Most areas of the state have never been checked for the presence of rare species. A field survey is the best way to determine their presence. We provide a list of all known rare species within one mile, as a guide to what could be on the property.

What does it mean if NHB does have a record on a particular property? A rare species or natural community was once observed in the vicinity and reported to NHB. The 'Year' column tells when it was last observed.

Call NHB Data Manager (271-2823) with questions regarding rare plants and exemplary natural communities, or NH Fish & Game (271-2461) with questions regarding rare animal species.
