Job Announcement:

The Division of Historical Resources (DHR) is seeking a highly-qualified professional to fill the position of State Archaeologist. This is a full-time position that works closely with all other programs and services in a busy State Historic Preservation Office in Concord, NH. Successful experience in conducting and evaluating archaeological investigations, overseeing artifact cataloging and curation, and conducting public archaeology programming is essential. Preferred qualifications include expertise in the pre-Contact archaeology of the Northeast, possession of a PhD in archaeology or anthropology (with a specialization in archaeology), and experience in coordinating volunteers, facilities management and emerging technological applications in archaeological research. As with all positions at the DHR, the ability to work creatively within a team setting is essential.

Within the state system, this is a Historian position, labor grade 24, 37.5 hours per week, five days a week, $47,326.50 to $63,999.00 annual salary range, depending on years of state service.

More information and applications are available for online submission at <http://das.nh.gov/jobsearch/Employment.aspx>, position #11595. Please include a letter of interest and qualifications, resume and transcripts. Questions on the online application process can be directed to Kathleen Stanick, Administrator, Department of Natural and Cultural Resources, 603/271-2400 or Kathy.stanick@dnrc.nh.gov.

This position is being posted pending a planned retirement, with an approximate start date of August 1, 2018. The position will remain open until filled; application review will begin the week of April 30, 2018. For additional information about the position, please contact Elizabeth Muzzey, Director and State Historic Preservation Officer, at 603/271-8850.
