

New Correctional Facility for Women Construction Update for March 17, 2017.

We have completed construction weeks #51 & #52 of the new NH Correctional Facility for Women in Concord.

Last week, winter came back with vengeance dropping 16 inches of new snow In Concord along with high winds and temperatures at night dropping to near zero. After the storm, large tarps and tents over the Reception and Diagnosis and restricted custody housing areas needed to be rebuilt after being torn from the wind and snow loads. Temporary heaters ran at full power both day and night in all enclosed areas all week last week. In order to keep the frost from being driven into the ground in the enclosed gymnasium area, construction blankets were rolled out to cover the entire area with heated water loops. (Picture below)

The project remains on schedule and within budget.
